PHOTOSFORCLASS.COM: A GUIDE FOR LANGUAGE TEACHERS

Photos for Class
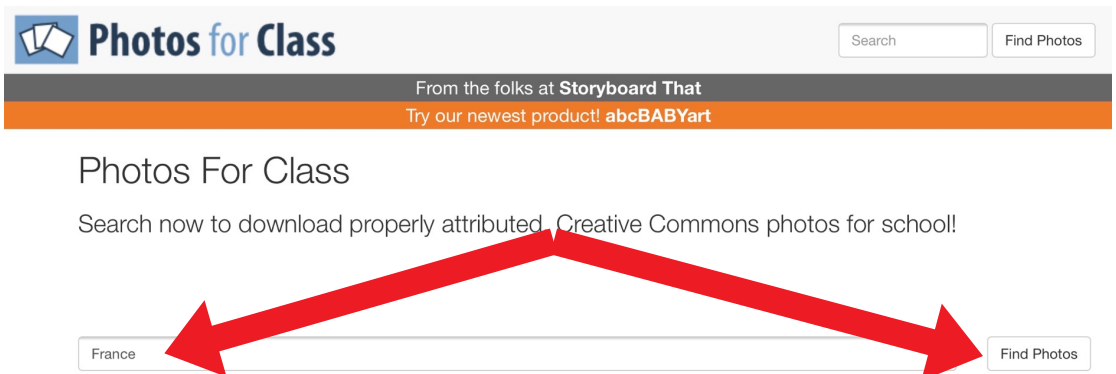

BY JOE DALE

Introduction

Photosforclass.com is a great directory of Creative Commons images which when downloaded display the image's licensing attribution in the footer making them perfect for use in class as there is no risk of breaching copyright.

To get started

First go to Photosforclass.com and type in a keyword in the search box for any image you would like to include in a presentation or multimedia project. Tap Find Photos.

Teachers have told us they need a place to access safe images that are available to be used in the classroom and for educational purposes. Plus, they want accurate image citations. We've heard you and created "Photos For Class" to meet your needs for images!

- Age Appropriate Images - All images are appropriate for the school setting, thanks to Flickr and Pixabay SafeSearch and our proprietary filters - Read More
- Automatic Citation - Downloaded images automatically cite the author and the image license terms - Read More
- Creative Commons - All photos shown are, to the best of our (and Flickr's / Pixabay's) knowledge, licensed by Creative Commons for public use

Having downloaded the image, you can see the attribution has been added to the footer giving details of how the image can be used.

To save the image on an iPad, hold your finger on the image until the Save Image option appears. Tap Save Image.

Other directories of royalty free images include Unsplash, Pexels and Pixabay. You can also do an advanced Google image search and select 'Free to use share modify' before searching.

I hope you've found this guide useful and it's given you some ideas on how you can use Photosforclass.com as a way of promoting intercultural understanding in your language lessons!
