

Challenging stereotypes

1. Individually, do you agree/disagree with any of these statements? In your opinion, would you substitute the word 'all' or "always" for "most" 'some', 'a few', 'none' "sometimes" "frequently" etc. in any of these statements?
2. Working in small groups, discuss your answers.

In Ireland

- All people have red hair
- All people have potatoes for their dinner
- All people speak Irish
- All people like Guinness
- All people are very friendly
- All people are very religious
- All people live in houses
- All people know each other
- It rains always rains
- It is always overcast

In Poland

- All Polish people complain all the time and about everything
- All Polish people are practicing Catholics
- All Polish people drink vodka
- All Polish people are intolerant
- All Polish people are very serious
- All Polish people wear folk costumes every day.
- Poland is old fashion country, people travel in carriages pulled by horses
- It is always very cold