

CoP – survey results

93.2% found it beneficial

6.8% somewhat beneficial

0% not beneficial

- Not alone!
- Share experiences with colleagues, feeling supported
- It enriched my workshop
- Given me ideas and helped me feel better about what i was doing
- Great to share ideas with other teachers
- It has given me more ideas for active language learning.
- It's a community of like-minded teachers, where we learn from each other
- To connect with my fellow colleagues
- Knowing what other MFL teachers do to engage students
- confidence
- sharing of practice
- More confident with technology
- Nice to feel supported and have somewhere to bounce ideas
- building links, making connections, hearing how other languages approach topics etc
- I know I'm not alone - what I'm doing is right, but I can always improve
- It is always nice to hear other people's ideas about how to do things.
- Realisation that we were all experiencing similar issues. Open discussion and frank expression of the pressures involved. Sharing really practical teaching ideas/ resources.
- The MFL CoP was very beneficial for me.
- Great to have chat with other Outstanding MFL teachers on what works and what doesn't in our classes.
- I have found the discourse around learning and teaching with teachers in other schools very beneficial. A collaborative approach is encouraged and embraced at the CoP.
- It is nice to share ideas and learn from each other. The CoP community makes you feel not alone in the pandemic.
- Good to see what other teachers do
- Rejuvenated my enthusiasm and made me feel like I was not alone
- Help building confidence re cba, and overall support
- Appreciated colleagues sharing tips and ideas.
- Mutual support
- Gained more confidence in trying out new apps
- Great to network with other MFL teachers. Sharing of ideas resources on What's App
- good
- relevant practical information
- CPD
- I feel more supported as a MFL teacher and feel i am up to date with ideas, curriculum, updates etc
- Energised me and gave me more ideas and motivation

- Networking and ensuring that we are keeping up to date with methodologies here in a geographically isolated school
- Meeting MFL teachers in my county was beneficial.
- It was good to hear we all had the same issues
- I feel I have a lot of support, I found it reassuring to hear about experiences and to run ideas past colleagues in other schools
- It gave me access to the community of MFL teachers.
- Shared ideas connected with colleagues
- Sharing of ideas/resources and experiences
- yes, improving my own self confidence in what I am doing in the classroom, the sharing of ideas is really good.
- Getting to meet with like-minded, enthusiastic colleagues and stay informed about what was upcoming from PDST, Languages connect, PPLI etc
- hear other ideas
- Greater knowledge of interactive teaching methods
- Gave me more confidence to try new things with my classes
- I have a much larger network of colleagues and the sharing of ideas for different tasks to do in class means has brought more variety to my lessons.
- Hearing what has worked for other teachers
- Share ideas
- found new resources which other teachers were using
- It has given me additional tools to use in my classroom and online with students.
- It made me feel like I was not alone in my struggles online. I definitely think being able to attend from home was really useful.
- Sharing of practice and feeling part of a team. support.
- Sharing ideas
- Sharing of ideas and knowing what has worked, or not, for others. It is good to know that other teachers in the CoP are experiencing the same success and/or failures. We as teachers and schools, have so much to learn from one another.
- It is great to have MFL community. I wasn't able to attend many online this year but really enjoyed our face-to-face meetings
- I didn't feel as isolated. It gave me confidence I was doing the right thing
- Support from other dealing with similar challenges amidst Covid
- Good for teacher wellbeing! great to get to know fellow teachers teaching locally
- solidarity and understanding of challenges we face
- I have found new perspectives
- It is great to share ideas & meet other teachers.
- Refreshed practice
- Helps to hear what other teachers find works
- got some great ideas to use during remote teaching
- Sharing ideas with motivated teachers